Visions & Views: The Troll Party – Constitution – Part 2.7

Okay, this is 'It', to sort things out! I do have some kind of understanding about these Troll games, but like everything, all understandings must be 'Verified', and I have hunch that Doo is going to teach me to verify my understandings myself. … and with Bo placed on my left shoulder preparing herself to 'boo' me right, I felt ready to go ahead with it.

"Okay, this is how the Chessboard will look like when we have 'almost' everything sorted out," Doo started off with telling me.

A fairly clean Chessboard from that I had to deal with yesterday. But even so, now I understand this one sort of straight off. Everything made sense made sense with my party 'Identity' red ring on e7 indicating where this my Troll Party 'Politically' stands. The 'Need/Want' border line marked each columns, with the blue 'Need' squares on top, and the green 'Want' squares below at the bottom. But I didn't feel too sure about sorting the Chessboard three ways, like 'X', 'Y', and 'Z'? … which Doo was quick to tell me about.

"So. This 'Nature Chessboard' if played with the right intentions, is three dimensional, like the space we all live in, you see.
The 'X' dimension has to do with the 'Body'; the body of the 'Throne', the 'Castle', the 'Tower', and the 'Wall', all together covering a complete row.
The Throne (King and Queen) is located in columns 'D' and 'E'.
The Castle (the two Bishops) is located in columns 'C' and 'F'.
The Tower (the two Knights) is located in columns 'B' and 'G'.
And the Wall (the two Bishops) is located in columns 'A' and 'H'.

But the Body works in so called 'Organization Layers' too you see, which are these eight 'Z' Kingdoms we have talked about," Doo continued.

"Right! I know what you are talking about, … may I," I enthusiastically asked Doo, and got his and Bo's approval. "Boo," Bo happily like almost shouted out in my ear.

"The 'Nest' is basic and highest priority. A 'Nest' is like a block, or several blocks, 'a Precinct' where people live." "Boo…," Bo happy accompanied.

"A 'Tree' can host several Nests covering a bigger land area, similar to a neighborhood or 'Community' in humankind language.," "Boo," I heard once again signaling me being right.

"A 'Meadow' in turn, can host several Trees, like a 'Political district' of some kind." "Boo…," Bo happily booed at me again.

"Then we have the 'Forest' who can host several Meadows, like Swedish 'Municipals' which we can vote for. "Boo…," Bo like jumped on my shoulder stretching out her happy booing one more time.

"Okay. A 'Mountain Range' can divide and host several Forests in like valleys of some kind, which very much can resembles Swedish 'Regions', which people can vote for. "Boo, Boo…," Bo clapped her hands in joy.

"Right, okay. … A 'Land' can then of course host several Mountains, like Sweden cover several Regions, which again, we Swedish people can vote for. "Boo, Boo, Boo…," Bo happily exclaimed loudly.

"Then, and this is tricky. Water, Oceans, big Lakes, and Rivers, can border several Countries, without covering them, but instead 'Comprise' several of them. Knowing that my 'Troll Constitution' don't stretch that far down the Chessboard, I can't 'Sovereignly' legislate about that, … but for sure open up a Chess game about it, right?" which made Bo like happily go crazy about it, booing at me several times.

"So then 'Air', which contrary is easy. Birds fly and can cover Earth in all directions, which no one 'Sovereignly ALONE' can legislate about, … but still and for sure can open up a Chess game discussing the matter," which made Bo booing at me like I had got it all.

Doo looked at me, and that look confirmed me right. And without a comment he kindly allowed me to continue.
Okay I thought, I got this!

Visions & Views: The Troll Party – Constitution – Part 2.7

"The highest priority 'Nest Layers', is what everything else 'downwards' is built upon, and each 'Nest' is its own 'Body', … a Constitution of its own, … which the lower priorities has to 'Obey' by, … and 'Propose' a common solution, which all the Nests in the 'Tree Community' can agree on, right? And then likewise further down the 'Priority' list to 'Air'.

I can see this now. Everything in Nature is upside down compared to what we humankinds vote for, and by that I mean that Nature rules, and in Nature, all these 'Nests Bodies' matters the most, … which is what my 'Troll Party Constitution' is meant for, right?" I ended off with.

Doo happily looked back at me, and Bo gave me another happy straight forward "Boo," to let me know that I had got it all right.

"But there is something more, isn't it?" I had to ask Doo, which he happy agreed to tell me more about, but at the same time, serious about it too.

"Yes there is, ending this Troll Constitution of yours. I know what these last things missing are and what you want to know more about. But let us just leave it at that till tomorrow. I, nor Bo, or you, would like to break the spell right now," Doo told in his most kindly and convincing way.

And I couldn't agree more…,

So, see you tomorrow.
