Visions & Views: The Troll Party – Constitution – Final Word

As a final word accompanying this Troll story, I would like to tell you a little about it, how it came to be and how it's done.

I do have an interest in politics, like where Sweden is heading today, but without any party connections. I have for sure tried, but I sort of 'can't get along' with them and their views. I'm difficult, yes I know, and this Troll Party story is yet another way to approach and discuss politics. I mean; Trolls are universal, right? … and chess is about 'Positioning,' both in politics and life, right? So why not use that and write a Troll story.

Okay. I have presented this Troll story on X as it, day by day, have been written and documented in both text and speech on this my 'BOteam.se' website. So, this is the original, like a manuscript first edition. Everything can be improved of course, animated, proper English, and so on, but I'm not too sure if I want to spend time on that, I have my limits you know.

Even so (depending on whatever), I have two continuing parts in my mind, this about 'Presentation' and 'Performance' how to make a Troll Party work. This is all fantasy of course, and I'm very aware of what Doo told me already from start, that people don't vote for Trolls anymore.

So, back to the drawer with my Troll stories for now, and get on with my other much bigger project, trying to improve my 'Under the Surface' adventure in English on a separate website, similar to this. If I'm going to tell you about it on X, I don't know yet, we'll see.

Whatever, I'll ponder on that till tomorrow. So, see you then.
